Siddu's Durbar at his residence

A scene on the terrace of CM Siddharamaiah's residence in city this morning.

Mysuru, Dec. 9- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah held a durbar on the second floor terrace of his house in city this morning. Hundreds of people had crowded with their petitions and requests. He spent about 20 minutes with the people and then he left the house on another urgent engagement at Anekal by aircraft.

The Chief Minister's meeting with the officers that was scheduled was cancelled.

His closest aide K. Marigowda had come with hundreds of people from Harohalli village in Jayapura Hobli to discuss about the murder of a person which had taken a political turn. Even as the Police tried to stop them, Marigowda brushed them aside telling, "They are our voters and do not stop them."

He then took his followers to the terrace of the house where the CM came to meet them. The CM asked SP Ravi D. Channannavar to discuss about it and take appropriate action.

There were nearly 150 to 200 people who had come with their applications which Siddaramaiah received outside his house.

He later addressed a press conference where he spoke about journalist Ravi Belagere's arrest and said that the law will take its own course. He was confident of Congress winning the election in Gujarat.

Gujarat poll begins

Ahmedabad, Dec. 9- As Gujarat started voting in the first phase of elections today, a number of Electronic Voting Machines were reported to be malfunctioning in Surat, dominated by small traders and the Patidar community.

Around 13.38 per cent voting took place in Kutch, Saurashtra and south Gujarat till 10 am, where a contest is on for 89 of the State's 182 constituencies. The last phase of canvassing has seen a bitter and personal campaign between the Congress and the BJP. For the last two days, suspended Congress leader Mani Shankar Aiyar's "neech" slur against Prime Minister Narendra Modi has dominated the campaign.

"There are 24,000 polling booths in Gujarat, the EVM problem has occurred only in 7 or 8 booths," Chief Election Commissioner Achal Kumar Joti said. "We have a number of EVMs in reserve," he said.

Dignity in death

The American intellectual and inventor Benjamin Franklin (1706-1790) is quoted as saying that there is nothing in life as certain as death and taxes. One may be inclined to take the quote as a merely humorous banter of Franklin, probably getting into a frame of mind hating the thought of shelling out taxes and taking the event of death lightly. Not many have the mental strength and balance of mind to either witness the death of a close friend or family member accepting it as no human being, or for that matter, no living form can have permanency of life. Even talking about death creates in one's mind a wave of solemnity, particularly when the event impacts relationships with financial implications. Given the ongoing death-related scenario in the land, portraying figures of death in road mishaps as well as the growing numbers of violent acts both within the country and on its borders with the neighbouring nation, there is reason to treat the news of death of anybody with far less sense of shock than in the past. A Kannada idiom Nitya saayovarige alovryaaru must have been scripted to help one to get mentally hardened.

We often hear from sources both in the government and knowledgeable circles statements disfavouring the expansion of the populations of certain species of animals in some regions. But, many take umbrage if anybody makes a similar statement regarding human populations, particularly in the land's urban spaces, already bursting at the seams. Even death is nowhere near arresting this irreversible trend.

Welcoming death under certain circumstances, particularly in the case of aged members of families not attending with love to the needs of suffering senior citizens cannot be translated into action, thanks to the land's laws relating to suicide. In this context, the practice of intentionally ending one's life to be rid of pain and suffering, namely euthanasia, is marked by different laws in various countries. As reported in an article by a former top bureaucrat published this week in a daily, responding to a Public Interest Litigation (PIL) by the NGO Common Cause in the Supreme Court asking that the Right to die with dignity be declared a fundamental right, the Central government has opposed the proposal.

The issue of dying in dignity, irrespective of the existing related laws of the land, boils down to ultimate assertion of privacy and the desire for dignity on the part of an individual to choose the time and manner of death. In sum, until the cloud of allowing euthanasia by law is cleared, one has to settle for the dignity factor only after one's death, for now.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

I have to swallow my scepticism. The most recent instance of this was occasioned by a piece of ordinary bath soap. There's a buzz going around social media that if you suffer from chronic muscular pain of any kind when you're trying to sleep, putting a bar of soap on your bed close to the affected area of the body will bring almost instant relief. When I heard about this, the sceptic in me said: What hogwash. Or, rather, what soapwash. However, Bunny, who for several years has suffered from extremely painful leg cramps which wake her up from the deepest sleep, decided to give the soap treatment a try. It mightn't do any good, but it certainly can't do any harm, she reasoned. So she took a half-used cake of soap and placed it near her leg when she went to bed. There were no cramps that night. And there haven't been any over the past few weeks. Fingers crossed, Bunny is hoping that a complaint which plagued her for so long has been made to mysteriously disappear thanks to soap. No one knows how the soap trick works. Is it some form of aroma therapy, the scent of the soap making your muscles relax while you sleep? According to social media a couple of Nobel Prize-winning scientists are trying to figure out the mystery of this inexplicable cure. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India.

Artist in self imposed captivity!

City of Brussels: A Belgian man had to be cut free from his art installation after failing to liberate himself after 19 days. Mikes Poppe had tethered himself by the ankle to a three-meter (10ft) chain that ran through a massive four-ton block of marble and spent 438 hours attempting to chisel his way to freedom.

The performance took place in the courthouse of the coastal Belgian city of Ostend. Poppe ate, slept, and washed there while chained to the block, all while live streaming to Youtube. He worked toward liberation from his self-imposed captivity by chiseling toward the stone every day, but after 19 days had to be cut free by a workman with an angle grinder. The exhibition's curator made the final decision to cut Poppe loose after talking with representatives of the courthouse, as she had extended the deadline for the performance piece several times.

Doomsday fear: Man builds secret bunkers

Salt Lake City: A case of Phobia in point is a doomsday-fearing octogenarian in the U.S. State of Utah, who dedicated more than three decades of his life to building bunkers and cabins on State and Government land and stuffing them with provisions and weapons.

The Iron County Sheriff's Office, which is investigating the case with the FBI and other law enforcement bodies, has so far declined to identify the man, revealing only that he resides in the town of Parowan. According to official information released so far, the man acted out of fear that the world might end or that society as we know it might somehow collapse. The structures he built are located in a forest bordering the ski town of Brian Head. Late in June, fire-fighters stumbled upon a bunker and a cabin, with investigators unearthing some items that helped them identify the person who had built them, a man in his 80s. The collection of items retrieved from the sites includes dozens of novelty grenades and explosive powder. The old man used barrels and garbage containers strewn across 8 locations to squirrel away weapons and supplies.

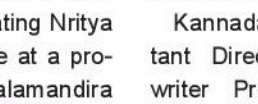
How long does it take prune juice to work?



Prune juice doesn't work immediately. It takes as little as a day or as long as several days for prune juice to produce results. But when it does work, it's advisable to be near a bathroom. It's not wise to take more than 4 oz of prune juice per day. Over consumption can produce painful cramps and loose bowels.

Ravi Belagere planned meticulously to eliminate Sunil, say Police

Sunil Heggaravalli with Ravi Belagere.

Supari killer Shashidhar Ramachandra Mundawadagi

Bengaluru, Dec.9- Barely a couple of days after he was handed a breather in a case of Breach of Privilege, Ravi Belagere, Editor of Kannada tabloid 'Hai Bangalore,' was arrested yesterday by Central Crime Branch (CCB) officers for allegedly attempting and conspiring to murder Sunil Heggaravalli, one of his former employees.

According to the Police, the plot to eliminate Sunil was a meticulously drawn plan and they have enough evidence to nail Belagere. It is very rare for the accused in such a case to get bail. Belagere had a major role to play in the case as he paid money, gave a gun and ammunition to carry out the killing.

Police sources said that Belagere had been having troubles at home and Sunil probably had a role to play in them.

The Police raided Prarthana School in Padmanabhanagar (from where Belagere runs his tabloid) around 1.30 pm.

Another person, Shashidhar Ramachandra Mundawadagi, allegedly hired by Belagere to carry out the killing, was arrested on Thursday.

At Belagere's school, the Police found a revolver, 53 live bullets, a double barrel gun and 41 live bullets. A tortoise shell of 1.5 x 1.5 ft and a deer pelt were also recovered.

He was booked under IPC sections 120-B (criminal conspiracy), 307 (attempt to murder) and sections 3 and 25 of the Arms Act.

Belagere was produced before the First Additional City Chief Magistrate Jagadeesh at his residence late last night and he was sent to four-day custody.

Police said that Belagere had planned to eliminate Sunil Heggaravalli, who had worked for 15 years at the tabloid. Heggaravalli had quit the publication in December 2014 and the two apparently had a personal feud.

How the case was cracked

The Special Investigating Team, probing the murder of Gauri Lankesh, detained a weapon supplier Tahir Hussein alias Anoop Gowda last Sunday.

Police were hot on his heels since Hussein used to supply country-made firearms (Gauri was killed with a similar weapon). During interrogation, he told the Police that he had given a pistol and two live bullets to Supari killer Mundawadagi of Vijayapura.

Late on Thursday night, Police arrested Shashidhar Mundawadagi from a lodge near Chikpet in Bengaluru. Upon interrogation, he spilled the beans about the murder that he planned to commit and how Belagere had hired him.

Indi in Vijayapura district is a hotbed of illegal gunrunners and Supari killers, which prompted the SIT probing Gauri's murder to round up gunrunners from the region trying to trace the source of the 7.65-mm country-made pistol used to kill her.

The SIT has yet to get a breakthrough in the Gauri murder case, but during their background check, they learned that Tahir Hussain was in Bengaluru and tipped off the Bengaluru Police.

What Mundawadagi told Police?

Mundawadagi told the Police that Belagere had called him in August to ask about the Bheema Theera gang (Belagere used to write about the dreaded gang in his tabloid).

He then offered "unimaginable riches" if Mundawadagi killed a person (Sunil) as he had allegedly developed intimacy with Belagere's second wife. Mundawadagi accepted and met Belagere at his office the week after.

Mundawadagi told Belagere that he would take care of the planning and his brother-in-law Viju Badiger would carry out the execution. At his office, Belagere gave Mundawadagi and Badiger a pistol and bullets from his briefcase. He asked the duo to kill Sunil and keep the pistol back in the briefcase.

Belagere then arranged a car for the duo to survey Sunil's house. When the duo reached his apartment on Uttarahalli Main Road on Aug.28, they noticed CCTV cameras in the building and the one adjacent to it. They dropped the plan, returned to Belagere's office and asked him for how long the CCTV footage would be saved.

When Belagere informed them that normally records are kept for a month, they said they would return after 30 days. But Mundawadagi was caught by the Maharashtra Police and four pistols were seized from him.

After his release, Mundawadagi returned to Bengaluru on Thursday and asked Belagere for the pistol. When Police got wind of Mundawadagi's arrival, they got Tahir to call him and laid a trap.

THE SUPARI TRAIL AND KEY PLAYERS

- Ravi Belagere: Put out the contract. Hailing from Ballari, he started Kannada tabloid 'Hai Bangalore' in 1995, which he edits.
- Sunil Heggaravalli: Intended target. He is a senior crime reporter working with Ravi Belagere since 15 years.
- Shashidhar Ramachandra Mundawadagi: The hitman hailing from Indi, Vijayapura district and known to Belagere. He has three murder cases against him: Muthu Master in 2006, Bhagappa Harijan in 2013, and Suresh Lalasangi in 2014.

The love angle

Bengaluru, Dec.9- Although Police have officially said that Belagere gave the Supari for his colleague Sunil's murder for 'personal reasons', others believe there is an outsider angle to it.

On July 20, Belagere posted a cryptic message on his Facebook wall which roughly translates to "When the husband is away at war, will the wife be considered chaste if she sits on somebody's lap?"

Heggaravalli says he is surprised that Belagere wanted him eliminated. He used to work in 'Hai Bangalore' as its chief reporter but quit due to 'some misunderstanding' with Belagere and worked in some other media. "After Gauri Lankesh's murder, Belagere called me and asked to come back to work. So I joined the tabloid again," he said.

"Belagere tried to contact me for no reason earlier also and tried to get the location of my mobile phone," said Sunil, adding that some days back, a "courier guy" had come to his house with a parcel of books from an unknown sender.

Now the Police have learnt that the "courier guy" was none other than Shashidhar Ramachandra Mundawadagi. A senior Police officer said, apart from the statement by Mundawadagi, they had a cache of electronic evidence, including call records linking Mundawadagi with Belagere.

VOICE OF THE READER

Earmark basement at
suburban bus stand for parking, not for stashing goods

Sir,

The current move by Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to vacate the unauthorised business establishments in the cellar and in the basement parking needs to be appreciated. If there is a violation in the basement usage from the approved drawing, the owner of the building needs to be penalised and punished. The tenant should be spared of legal issues.

Similarly, action should be initiated against the function hall promoters also. Many of the function halls have their basement as parking area in the approval, but have converted the basement to dining hall, thus clogging the roads with vehicles all around the function hall.

When the Government constructed a modern suburban bus stand on Bengaluru-Nilgiri road, it was anticipated that the perennial problem of parking would be resolved. But unfortunately a badly designed basement parking did not in any way mitigate the parking woes.

To add to the woes, the shop-keepers of the bus stand have encroached the basement parking as their un-official and un-licenced godown dumping all sorts of items. Mysuru City Corporation should ensure that basement parking at the suburban bus stand is used for parking and not for stashing their goods.

Electric train to save Rs.20 crore diesel cost; provide clean air to Mysuru

Shatabdi Express on electric traction to begin from month end; all electric trains by March 18

Mysuru Railway Station.

Krantiveera Sangolli Rayanna Railway Station in Bengaluru.

Mysuru, Dec. 9 (NNN)- The track doubling and electrification work on the Mysuru-Bengaluru track is complete and Shatabdi Express (Mysuru-Chennai) is the first planned locomotive to be run on electric traction in the last week of this month.

Once the electric train is introduced, there will be considerable time saved on changing locomotives at Krantiveera Sangolli Rayanna (KSR) Railway Station in Bengaluru.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, SWR Chief Public Relations Officer (CPRO), E. Vijaya, when asked how much time would be saved said, "Running time is dependent on number of factors and saving cannot be quantified now. However, time being used for changeover of engines from diesel to electric and vice versa in Bengaluru and fuelling of diesel engines at Mysuru will be avoided. Time saving is expected to be up to 7-8 minutes on this account. But minimum stoppage at these two said stations shall still continue."

The diesel locomotives will be replaced with electric ones in a phased manner depending on loco availability and incoming power availability at Yeliyur traction. "It depends on locomotives availability and it is expected that by 2018-19 only electric trains will ply in the section," she said and added "three express trains and three passenger trains will run on electricity only by March 18."

On how much cost reduction will happen once electric locomotives are introduced when compared to diesel hauled ones, Vijaya said, "There will be saving of 1,300 litres of diesel in one train from Bengaluru to Mysuru and back. A litre of diesel costs Rs. 57.20 in Bengaluru. There will be cost reduction of approximately Rs. 20 crore. However, cost of electricity depends on tariff rates of State Electricity Board."

What is the impact of switching from diesel to electric engines? Vijaya categorically stated that pollution on account of diesel engine will be totally eliminated . "This is a giant leap towards Green and clean Mysuru," she said.

Terminal problem: In spite of the track doubling and electrification between Mysuru and Bengaluru and the euphoria with which the people of both the cities have welcomed it, there is nothing much to cheer about for the passengers as there is congestion in Bengaluru.

Shatabdi is the fastest train commuting between two cities. The running time between the two cities is two hours now. After the completion of the both the projects, the trains from Mysuru up to Kengeri can run very fast. However, the time taken to cover a distance of just 16 kms to Bengaluru will be anywhere between 30 to 50 minutes because of the high density of train traffic in this station. Hence, to overcome this problem not only requires redesigning the entire KSR Railway Station, but also needs a rescheduling of Bengaluru-Mysuru train timing to complete the travel time in shorter span of time.

Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary declared Eco Sensitive Zone

Mysuru, Dec. 9 (MTY&BCT)– The famed Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary near Srirangapatna, one of the oldest bird sanctuaries in India and an ideal breeding ground for migratory birds including endangered species, has been declared as Eco Sensitive Zone (ESZ).

The Union Government has issued a notification in this regard and has earmarked a total geographical area of 28.04 square kilometres for the ESZ. This prohibits industries and a class of industrial processes and operations that are toxic and hazardous from functioning in the Zone's proximity.

The notification, issued on Nov. 9, said that the declaration of ESZ is to protect the unique fauna and flora of a group of nine islands in the River Cauvery that forms a part of the bird sanctuary. The islets are the main breeding and nesting grounds for hundreds of bird species.

Twenty-six villages in Pandavapura, Srirangapatna and T. Narasipura taluks will fall within the ESZ and will have to adhere to central rules and guidelines as far as operations of different industrial and commercial activities are concerned.

Eleven major activities including setting up of major hydro-electric projects, discharge of effluents, commercial livestock, saw mills and brick kilns among others are prohibited. All new and existing commercial mining (minor and major minerals), stone quarrying and crushing units are prohibited with immediate effect. No new polluting industries will be allowed within the ESZ henceforth.

No new construction of hotels and resorts will be allowed within one kilometre radius of the bird sanctuary's boundary or up to the extent of the ESZ. Any expansion of existing tourist facilities including resorts within the ESZ shall be in accordance with the Central guidelines.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Deputy Conservator of Forest, Mysuru (Wildlife) Division, V. Yedukondalu said, "With the ESZ tag, many commercial activities are prohibited, regulated or promoted and a sustained and a stage-by-stage approach is taken for the sanctuary's protection."

Adjoining areas of the bird sanctuary will get protection so that feeding and nesting grounds of the birds are not affected. "ESZ is necessary for control of uncontrollable development, long term sustainable development and preservation of biodiversity in this protected area," he said. The sanctuary supports 221 bird species including resident and migratory birds such as Cormorants, Darters, Egrets, White Ibis, Spoonbills, and Herons, Open Billed and Painted Storks, Indian River Tern, Great Stone Plover and a host of other birds. It is also home to Bonnet Macaques, Otters, Palm Civet, Turtles, Marsh Crocodiles and numerous fish species.

Pelican death not due to bird flu, says report

Mysuru, Dec. 9 - Results of the samples collected from dead pelicans at Kukkarahalli Lake and at Kokkare Bellur near Mandya have tested negative for avian influenza. The reports confirmed in their autopsy report that the dead birds were suffering from acute parasitic infection.

The Southern Regional Disease Diagnostic Laboratory of the Institute of Animal Health and Veterinary Biologicals (IAHVB), Bengaluru, tested the samples sent by the office of Assistant Director, City Veterinary Hospital, Mysuru.

After testing the cloacal swabs, tracheal swabs and organ samples of the pelican, the institute, in its report, said the samples had been tested negative for Influenza type 'A' specific and Influenza H5 specific. With this report, the fears of suspected bird flu had been scientifically allayed. But the report did not explain the actual cause for the death.

According to Animal Husbandry Department officers, the pelicans died due to acute parasitic infection, and not of avian flu. They said that polluted water might have been the reason. Veterinary experts said that parasitic infections can be more deadly for birds as they die due to internal bleeding.

Mysuru Chocolate!

When it comes to food, our city has always been famous for Masala dosa and the ever popular Mysore Pak. Now an expat in city is making Mysuru famous for its chocolates! David Bello, who makes artisan chocolates from his unit in Mysuru, is now gaining international repute.

Intrigued, I found his company 'Earth Loaf Chocolates' and called him up. He promptly invited me to his factory at Hebbal Industrial area. The factory is a small unit with two big rooms — one has a few grinders and another where the chocolate is tempered. The first thing I noticed was that there was a photograph of a young Mahatma Gandhi on the wall! I asked David, why? He said he was born in South Africa where Gandhiji had found his calling and he felt the Mahatma is as much a South African as Indian and that he idolises Gandhiji and all that he stood for.

Speaking of chocolates, David says there is a new kind of chocolate market that is emerging called 'adult chocolates.' These are chocolates that are made to tickle the taste buds of adults and not meant to impress children. In this category there is another specialty called 'artisan chocolates' — these are chocolates made with a sense of adventure and artisanship. And David Bello considers himself an artist and is adventurous with his chocolate creations.

I tasted a few and it is like a discovery. I tasted chocolate with a blend of coffee and pineapple, chocolate with mango and chillies, chocolate with jackfruit chunks etc., but the chocolate percentage is always 72% and pure. Now, while some are delicious, others are definitely an acquired taste.

David was a mixologist in UK helping restaurants set up their cocktail menu. He then launched a bakery called Earth Loaf where he also made chocolate. In 2012, his girlfriend wanted to move to Mysuru and practice Ashtanga Yoga with the famed Yoga Teacher Sharath Jois and David moved to Mysuru with her. While here he wanted to do something with chocolates and when he was trying to source cocoa from Indonesia he learnt that Karnataka produces good cocoa!

Soon he tied up with farmers in Dakshina Kannada, changed his visa to a business visa, raised 3,000 pounds from Kickstarter website and was ready to make artistic, pure Indian chocolate. But what happened next is a long wait.

David says he loves India, but adds, "Setting up a business is not something I recommend." When asked why, he says "In UK, it took me one hour to get permission to set up my bakery business but in India it took me two-and-a-half-years!" He proudly adds "But I am a tenacious guy, I loved the fact that good cocoa was available here, and India is an emerging market for "fine" chocolate. And I must also thank Mahesh Kumar of Premier Polymers who helped me."

He says there are many expats in Mysuru who have amazing skills and knowledge wanting to start businesses here and settle down but the permission process is discouraging. He then adds emphatically, "I am of Portuguese origin, my forefathers may have looted India, not me. I want to be here, I like India, I want to give back, I want to create jobs and pay my taxes." I asked if it has been a huge change in lifestyle for him to move from London to Mysuru, to which he says, "Lifestyle is not a priority, life is about passion. And for me, chocolate-making is my passion."

I noticed most of the staff in the factory did not speak English so I asked David how he had managed to train his rural staff to which he replied, "Nange solpa kannada baruthe." It seems, in order to educate and train his staff and negotiate with cocoa farmers, David over the past 3 years has learnt "functional" Kannada. Not just that, he has also learnt to be ingenious like Indians. David points to a machine that separates cocoa beans from its shell and says, "I did some desi style juggad and built this machine myself. The original one from the US was costing 35,000 dollars, I built this for just Rs.28,000."

Everything about David's chocolates is artistic. There is attention to detail, from sourcing cocoa to the final wrapper. The chocolates are sealed in foil and wrapped in silk-screen printed hand-made paper and he says he gets it printed in Mysuru. He says he gets it hand-printed in Agrahar and requested I don't mention the printer as it's his secret. His paper also is unique as they are hand-made and he has even created paper using the left-over shell of the cocoa beans! For this he worked with a paper-maker in Gujarat.

Apart from chocolates, Earth Loaf also sells raw cocoa beans, chocolate powder and Bon-Bons — small spherical chocolate shell with filling inside. For 2018 Dasara, David is already planning a 'Mysore Pak Bon-Bon' — chocolate on the outside and when you bite into it, you get Mysore Pak. In the meantime, he is also planning to open an 'Earth Loaf Café' in city and hopes to showcase his baking skills.

It is because of this passion and attention to detail that Earth Loaf Chocolates won the Best Taste Award, instituted by the Guild of Fine Food, UK. A first for Indian chocolate.

David says like how 'South Indian' coffee is famous across the world, he hopes to make 'South Indian Chocolates' world famous. Guess, sometimes it takes an outsider to show us our nation's hidden treasures. In case of David, it's delicious chocolate treasures.

KSOU: CM asks officers to seek legal opinion

Bengaluru, Dec.9- In a bid to resolve the KSOU row, in which the fate of lakhs of students hangs in the balance, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah held a meeting with State Chief Secretary K. Ratna Prabha and other officials at his official residence 'Cauvery' here yesterday morning.

During the meeting, Siddharamaiah directed the officials to seek legal opinion from the Advocate General on the fate of the students. Pointing out that the future of lakhs of students who have appeared for the exams and awaiting results and certificates continues to remain uncertain after the UGC withdrew its recognition of KSOU a couple of years ago, the CM said it was high time the Government took an appropriate decision on the issue.

Chief Secretary Ratna Prabha apprised the Chief Minister that wrong moves by the KSOU were alone responsible for the plight of students.

Noting that the KSOU admitted students and conducted exams for technical courses without obtaining any permission from the UGC, she said that the UGC has taken all these irregularities seriously and as such, the row has become more complex.

The question before the Government now is how to resolve the row and come to the rescue of students, Rathna Prabha said.

Later, Siddharamaiah told the meeting to seek legal opinion and also to bring the matter to the notice of the Court.

The CM further said that the issue will be discussed at Monday's Cabinet meeting, following which a decision on the Government's next move will be taken.

Indian Super League 2017

Miku strikes for Bengaluru FC

Guwahati, Dec. 9 - Bengaluru FC beat NorthEast United FC 1-0 in Hero Indian Super League (ISL) 2017-18 at the Indira Gandhi Athletic Stadium in Guwahati yesterday. Venezuelan striker Miku netted the winner for the Blues early in the second half as Bengaluru climbed back to the top of the table.

The match started with plenty of free-flowing football from both sides as the teams took turns to carry forward attacks. Bengaluru got the first chance of the match in the 14th minute as Miku was fed a ball from Udanta Singh on the right, but with the defenders closing in, Miku's hasty toe-poke trickled inches wide off the target.

The Blues then upped the ante and kept the lion share of the possession, initiating attacks in abundance. Bengaluru's captain fashioned his team's next big chance after Edu Garcia chipped in a ball towards Sunil Chhetri between two defenders, and while their skipper took the ball down well, his shot was straight at Highlanders' custodian TP Rehenesh.

The hosts got their first shot on target on the half-hour mark when Jose Goncalves ran into the box and let fly, but keeper Lalthuammawia Ralte had no trouble making a straightforward save. Four minutes later, Marcinho went through on goal following a one-two with Adilson Goiano. His chip though was way off target.

The home team now started pressing relentlessly. Six minutes before the half ended, Danilo Lopes was released on the right, and his shot, which was on target, was met with a fingertip save by Ralte. Marcinho then tried to curl in from distance in the 41st minute, but the effort just sailed wide off the mark. That was the last bit of action in the first half as the players went into the break with the scores tied at 0-0.

Bengaluru made sure that there was no dilly-dallying in the second half as they got themselves the opening goal two minutes after the restart. A misspass from Rehenesh was pounced on by Udanta, and he squared it for Miku who took a touch before slotting the ball home.

As the second half dragged on, the ball stayed mostly in midfield as neither team created any significant openings. NorthEast tried their luck from distance a few times, particularly with Marcinho and substitute Lalrindika Ralte, but with little success.

They had a great chance to equalise though when Lopes turned inside the penalty box and got away a clean shot. But, Ralte was in the right place to make the save as the Blues hung on to their lead and went top of the table.

City's religious heads join hands for clean Mysuru top rank

Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji releasing the Swachhata Awareness poster at the Swachhata convention held in the Suttur Mutt premises at the foot of Chamundi Hill yesterday. Sri Somanatha Swamiji, Swami Atmajnanandaji, Sri Datta Vijayananda Teertha Swamiji, Mayor M.J. Ravikumar, MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha, Health Officer Dr. Nagaraj, Fr. Vincent and others are seen.

Mysuru, Dec.9 (SBD&NNN)- The religious heads of all communities came together on a single platform and promised to work hard to see that Mysuru regains the cleanest city tag in the country. It was a historic occasion to see the religious leaders who are the conscience of the society as they are involved in spiritual, health and education field to fight for the cause of cleanliness.

The all-religious leaders Swachhata convention was held yesterday at the Sri Suttur Mutt Ashram at the foot of Chamundi Hill under the chairmanship of Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji. They assured that they would give full support to the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to create awareness among the people about the importance of keeping the city clean.

Suttur Seer speaking on the occasion said that Mysuru city had bagged the top ran in the country successively twice in the past but had slipped to fifth spot last year. However, in the Swachh Survekshan survey to be conducted in January 2018, Mysuru should regain the first rank. "All religious leaders have vowed to come together for this great cause. MCC should utilise their cooperation properly," he said.

The Seer pointed out that it is very vital for the public to participate in the survey and give a balanced opinion, which could tilt the result in favour of the city. The tech-savvy present generation can use the mobile WhatsApp to participate in the survey, he said.

He asked the people to segregate the wet and dry waste instead of throwing it in the neighbour's house or vacant sites and give it to the Corporation's garbage collectors. "We are ready to be a part of the Swachh campaign and motivate the people at any time of the day or night," he said.

Sir Khazi of Mysore Maulana Mohammad Usman Shariff said that the effort to keep the city clean must be relentless. With everyone's cooperation the city can once again rank first, he expressed his confidence.

Fr. Vincent Moretha said that we keep the temples, churches and mosques clean because of God residing there. But there is no place where there is no go. Hence, we should keep all places clean.

Adichunchanagiri Mutt Mysuru branch's Sri Somanatha Swamiji said that the gift of Wadiyars, the rulers of Mysore was clean, well-planned city and it the duty of every citizen to maintain it.

Sri Ganapathy Sachhidananda Ashrama's junior pontiff Sri Datta Vijayananda Teertha Swamiji said along with good religious practises, there people should have a social concern.

Ramakrishna Ashrama's Swamiji Atmajnanandaji, Mata Amritanandamayi Centre's Brother Ramakrishnan, Sri Mahalingeshwara Dhayana Kendra's Sri Basavalingamurthy, Hosamath's Sri Chidananda Swami also spoke.

Swachhata Convention Decisions: To unite the devotees in all the mutts, temples, mosques, churches, Gurudwara and form Welfare Development Associations. To form Swachh Committees in all educational institutions coming under the limits of various religious administrations. To create awareness among the public through padayatras. Suttu Seer who chaired the meeting will head the Steering Committee of Swachhata Convention.

Six killed in accidents

Girish Jeevan Yashwanth

Mysuru, Dec.9- A total of six persons were killed in three separate road mishaps that took place in Srirangapatna, Saragur and T. Narasipur Police Station limits yesterday.

In a ghastly mishap, three teenaged motor cyclists from Mysuru were killed when the two-wheeler they were riding was knocked down by a Bolero near Hosa Anandur gate on Mysuru-KRS Road yesterday.

The deceased have been identified as Girish (19) of Vokkalageri, Jeevan Gowda (18) of Kumbarageri and Yashwanth (18) of Ashoka Road in city.

The three were returning to the city from Balamuri after celebrating a friend's birthday, when the Apache motorcycle (KA-09 MH-3990) they were riding, was knocked down by Bolero (KA-45 6470) vehicle which was proceeding towards KRS.

While Girish was Killed on-the-sopt, Jeevan and Yashwant died en route to the hospital, it is learnt. The driver of Bolero vehicle fled from the spot soon after the mishap. KRS Police have registered and are investigating.

In another mishap, two persons were killed when the motorcycle they were riding collided -on with a canter vehicle near the Forest Department office at Saragur in H.D. Kote taluk on last evening. The deceased have been identified as Nagashetty (32) and Sannamadashetty (35) of Gontakalahundi in H.D Kote.

The two were travelling on a motorcycle (KA-09 HB-0321) from Saragur to their village, when the speeding canter (KA-35 3903) proceeding towards Mysuru, knocked down the motorcycle near Saragur Range Forest Office. While Nagashetty was killed on-the-spot, Sannamadashetty died while being shifted to a Mysuru hospital, it is learnt. Saragur Police have registered a case.

In another freak mishap, a teenager was killed and his parents sustained serious injuries when they were knocked down by a speeding canter near Induvalu on Mysuru-T. Narasipur Road on Thursday night.

The deceased has been identified as Santosh (19) of S. Kebbehundi in T. Narasipur and injured parents are Shobha and Mallesh, who have been admitted to JSS hospital in Mysuru.

Mallesh and Shobha were returning to their village from Mysuru on a TVS moped (KA-55 S-3071) on Thursday night, when the two-wheeler ran out of fuel.

Mallesh then called his son and asked him to bring petrol, following which Santosh bought petrol in a bottle from T. Narasipur and was filling it to the moped near Induvalu, when a speeding canter proceeding towards Mysuru knocked him and his parents who stood beside the moped.

The canter (KA-26 3210) is said to have first hit a private bus and then moved further knocking down the three.

All the three, who sustained serious injuries, were rushed to JSS hospital, where Santosh breathed his last sometime later, it is learnt. T. Narasipur Police have registered a case.

''ನಾವೂ ಶ್ರೀಮಂತ ರಾಗಬೇಕು ಎಂಬುವ ಹಂಬಲ ಎಲ್ಲರಲ್ಲೂ ಇದೆ. ಆದರೆ ಸಂಪತ್ತನ್ನು ಗಳಿಸಬಹುದಾದ ಉಪಾಯಗಳು ನಮ್ಮಲ್ಲಿಲ್ಲ. ಅದಕ್ಕೆ ನಮಗೆ ಬೇಕಾಗಿರುವುದು ಶ್ರೀಮಂತ ಯೋಚನೆ ಮತ್ತು ಮನೋಭಾವನೆ ಎನ್ನುತ್ತಾರೆ ಅಂತರ್‌ರಾಷ್ಟ್ರೀಯ ಖ್ಯಾತಿಯ ತರಬೇತುದಾರರಾದ ಡಾ|| ಭರತ್‌ಚಂದ್ರ.

ಸಂಪತ್ತು ಸಂಪತ್ತನ್ನು ಆಕರ್ಷಿಸುತ್ತದೆ. ಮೊದಲ ಒಂದು ಲಕ್ಷ ಸಂಪಾದಿಸುವುದು ಕಷ್ಟ ಮುಂದಿನ ಒಂದು ಲಕ್ಷಕ್ಕೆ ಅಷ್ಟು ಪರಿಶ್ರಮ ಬೇಕಿಲ್ಲ. ಹಾಗೆಯೇ ಮುಂದೊಂದು ದಿನ ಕುಳಿತಲ್ಲಿಯೇ ಲಕ್ಷಗಟ್ಟಲೆ ಹಣ ಸಂಪಾದಿಸಬಹುದು.

ಷೇರು ಮಾರುಕಟ್ಟೆಯಲ್ಲಿ ಸಫಲರಾಗ ಬೇಕಾದರೆ ಲಕ್ಷಾಂತರ ಹೂಡಬೇಕಾಗಿಲ್ಲ. ಇಂಗ್ಲೀಷ್, ಕಂಪ್ಯೂಟರ್ ಜ್ಞಾನ ಬೇಕೇಬೇಕೆಂಬ ನಿಯಮವಿಲ್ಲ. ಹಗಲೂ ರಾತ್ರಿ ದುಡಿಯಬೇಕಾಗಿಲ್ಲ. ವ್ಯವಹಾರ ಜ್ಞಾನ ಇದ್ದು ಕೇವಲ 20-30 ಸಾವಿರ ಬಂಡವಾಳ ದಿಂದಲೂ ನಿಮ್ಮ ವ್ಯವಹಾರವನ್ನು ಈಗ ಪ್ರಾರಂಭಿಸಬಹುದು. ಷೇರು ತುಂಬ ಆಪಾಯಕರ ಮತ್ತು ಅರ್ಥವಾಗದ ಗೊಂದಲಮಯ ಮಾಯಾ ಬಜಾರ್ ಎಂಬ ತಪ್ಪು ಕಲ್ಪನೆಯನ್ನು ಹೋಗಲಾಡಿಸಿ ವ್ಯವಹರಿಸಿದರೆ ಇದರಿಂದ ಲಾಭ ಖಂಡಿತ.

ವಿಶೇಷವಾದ ಸೆಮಿನಾರ್ – ನಾಳೆ ಭಾನು, ಡಿಸೆಂಬರ್ 10 ರಂದು ಮಧ್ಯಾಹ್ನ 3.30 ಕ್ಕೆ ಸ್ಥಳ : JLB ರಸ್ತೆಯ ರೋಟರಿ ಹಾಲಿನಲ್ಲಿ (MUDA ದ ಎದುರುಗಡೆ) ಸೀಟುಗಳು ಮೊದಲ 100 ಜನರಿಗೆ ಮಾತ್ರ ಎಲ್ಲರಿಗೂ ಸುಸ್ವಾಗತ. ಪ್ರವೇಶ ಉಚಿತ.
